

Exciting news: we're having a baby boy! Aside from doctor's appointments, we've been traveling around visiting people and speaking at some different churches. After so much traveling, it was good to spend about a week camping in the Smoky Mountains just the two of us. The mountains and fall colors were beautiful.

While we've been enjoying the cool weather, it's been really hot in Guinea-Bissau. The rainy season is ending this month but it'll still be a couple months before the "cold" season comes. Our teammates Tym and Agnes have been working on their house. It will be nice to have them as neighbors when we go back.

We have shared with several churches. At one church we shared with the children's group.

Since returning to the U.S. we have had many people say, "I bet you are so glad to be back in the U.S." Although in many ways this is true, it also has its difficulties. Since returning to the U.S., the longest time we have spent in one place is about three weeks. It has been tiring bouncing around between family members' and friends' homes and living out of our suitcases. We are so thankful for how people have welcomed us into their homes but it would be nice to have a place to call home for now and when we are on furlough in the future. For this reason we have decided to look for an affordable house near Sarah's parents in Indiana to purchase. Our hope is that we can find one soon and move in before the end of the year so that we can get settled in before the baby comes. Our plan is to make the home available for other missionaries to use when we are in Africa. Sarah's parents have agreed to watch over the house while we are in Guinea Bissau. Please pray that we will be able to find an affordable house soon and that many others would be able to be blessed by it.

Praises:

- That the baby is healthy and growing.
- That Tym and Agnes's home is coming along.
- For a good time in the Smokies.

Prayer Requests:

- For continued health for Sarah and the baby.
- For safe travels as we still have more trips to make.
- For our friends in Guinea-Bissau. We pray that God continues to work on the hearts of our neighbors.
- For wisdom in looking for a house.
